

|October 2011 |

2Know

KM Newsletter

ROM News

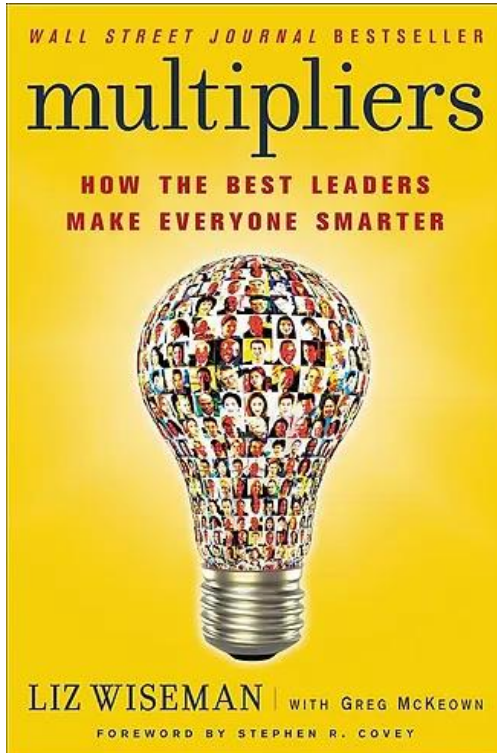

01

Preserving Organizational Knowledge Before Retirement

The text discusses the importance of preserving organizational knowledge from retiring experts through knowledge management methodologies. It explores reasons organizations often delay this process and suggests approaches to motivate them to take action.

To full article

To full article

02

Multipliers - Book Review

"Multipliers: How the Best Leaders Make Everyone Smarter" (2010) by Liz Wiseman and Greg McKeown explores leadership, distinguishing "multipliers" who empower from "diminishers." It delves into talent attraction, releasing control, presenting challenges, fostering discussions, engaging investors, and leadership strategies, offering accessible insights for personal and organizational growth.

03

Rethinking Knowledge Management for Technical Expertise

Technical knowledge management requires creative solutions beyond text documents, such as pictures, videos, and simulators, to effectively capture and transfer operational expertise related to machines, systems, and products.

To full article